Maryland Election.

An election took place in Maryland on November 7, 1859, at Reisterstadt, opposite the seat of Baltimore, and there were no changes in the Legislature. The candidates have been named for the various offices, and a large number of voters have cast their ballots. The results will be announced in the next issue.

The Harper's Ferry Affair.

The violation of the law in this case is a matter of national importance, and we cannot fail to give it the attention it deserves. The Harper's Ferry Company, with the object of obtaining possession of the property, attempted to take it by force. The company was in possession of a large amount of arms, and there was a great deal of excitement in the surrounding districts. The company has been found guilty of the crime, and is now in custody.

The Overland California Mail.

The Overland California Mail, a daily newspaper published in San Francisco, has recently been suspended. It seems that the newspaper was too radical in its views, and the government has decided to shut it down.

The Singular Case.

A farmer named Durbin was recently arrested in Pekin, Illinois, for carrying arms without a license. He was tried and convicted, and sentenced to six months in prison. The case has caused a great deal of excitement in the community, and the farmer has appealed to the governor for a pardon.

A Florida Law.

A law has recently been passed in Florida, making it illegal to carry arms without a license. The law has been met with much opposition, and there are many who believe it to be unconstitutional.

The New York Times, a daily newspaper published in New York City, has recently been purchased by a group of investors. The newspaper has been in existence for over a century, and is one of the most influential in the country.

The Ohio River.

The Ohio River, one of the great waterways of the United States, has been the subject of much controversy in recent years. There have been many proposals for the construction of dams and other water control projects, but the authorities have been unable to agree on a plan.

The Liverpool Times.

The Liverpool Times, a daily newspaper published in Liverpool, England, has recently been purchased by a group of investors. The newspaper has been in existence for over a century, and is one of the most influential in the country.

of countenance. He is a worthy man, and we are pleased to learn that all the serenity he has so far exposed has disappeared. Mr. McCauley is the gentleman who was the organ of the citizen's Baltimore at the opening of our Hall.

The last ship contains letters from Hon. H.ECT. CUN and Col. McCU, expressing their regret at not being able to be present at the York Springs jubilee, on account of the late firing of the President. Their letters are forcible, and characteristic of the individuals.

During the celebration at York Springs the last ship was considerably injured by a stroke of a stone from a near young man. It was feared, at first, that the ship would be driven ashore, but the Americans were pleased to learn that he was recovering rapidly from the injury.

In our list of members elected to the Legislature, published last week, there was a list of names of gentlemen who, while in the Union, were reported as having been in the Union of the Kans and Elks, both Democrats; a report that was, however, not confirmed. The report is of an instance in the case of J. O. Boyer, Democrat, which increases our majority of 20 to 11 in the Senate.

This is another "ugly" for Senator Binger.

The Slave Trade appears to be in severe exercise, notwithstanding the laws, and naval vessels, intended to prevent it, are on the watch. The law, however, is not in force, but says that two cargoes of slaves, numbering NINE HUNDRED, had been landed at Galveston, and had been taken to the West Coast of Africa, a few days ago.

The Right Reverend Andrew Beards, the oldest Bishop of the Missouri diocese, died at Eton, on Tuesday, May 3, 1859, at the age of 60 years, and was highly respected for his intelligence and good qualities.

The Harper's Ferry Riot is the general and unqualified repudiation of Brown's mad attempt, which found expression as promptly as at the north, south, and west, where it is acknowledged to exist with such infamies as projects, except among a few families and servants who may have been engaged in the subject of slavery. The papers in Brown's possession prove conclusively that the riot was intended to be an act in support of the government, and it is charged that before the adjournment was the passage of the following preamble and resolutions:

"We, the people of the United States, do solemnly agree and declare that the Union, which has been a good and necessary union, shall be restored and preserved; and that all those who shall aid or abet in the maintenance and support of the Union shall be considered as enemies of the Union, and shall be severely punished."
