MISSOURI COURIER, HANNibal, Thursday, December 23, 1864.

MANNIXAL

THURSDAY—Dec. 23.

Our Terms are—$1.00 a Copy, ($2.00 a Year, $3.00 for Three Dollars). Each of our new subscribers will have the kindness to address the office, and the notice of the price inserted into the paper. Will they see it?

Establishment.

We have determined to extend the size of our paper. We have a fine new press and we shall add one more. We shall also have a larger number of scribes, a greater number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. The press is in the hands of the scribes, and shall augment the press, and the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Circulation.

With a very little election in the county, we find that our circulation is greater than we expected. The number of scribes is much greater than we expected. We print in the papers we have can be much greater than we expected. Every morning paper will be printed, and the papers will be printed in all the towns. We have a large number of scribes, and will print in all the towns. And we shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Terms.

We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We shall continue to publish the same for $1.00 a Copy, ($2.00 a Year, $3.00 for Three Dollars). Each of our new subscribers will have the kindness to address the office, and the notice of the price inserted into the paper. Will they see it?

Our Staff.

The Staff of the Missouri Courier consists of three men, and we propose to increase the number of our scribes to ten. We shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Circulation.

We have determined to extend the size of our paper. We have a fine new press and we shall add one more. We shall also have a larger number of scribes, a greater number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. The press is in the hands of the scribes, and shall augment the press, and the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Terms.

We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We shall continue to publish the same for $1.00 a Copy, ($2.00 a Year, $3.00 for Three Dollars). Each of our new subscribers will have the kindness to address the office, and the notice of the price inserted into the paper. Will they see it?

Our Staff.

The Staff of the Missouri Courier consists of three men, and we propose to increase the number of our scribes to ten. We shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Circulation.

With a very little election in the county, we find that our circulation is greater than we expected. The number of scribes is much greater than we expected. We print in the papers we have can be much greater than we expected. Every morning paper will be printed, and the papers will be printed in all the towns. We have a large number of scribes, and will print in all the towns. And we shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Terms.

We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We do not wish to change the price of our paper. We shall continue to publish the same for $1.00 a Copy, ($2.00 a Year, $3.00 for Three Dollars). Each of our new subscribers will have the kindness to address the office, and the notice of the price inserted into the paper. Will they see it?

Our Staff.

The Staff of the Missouri Courier consists of three men, and we propose to increase the number of our scribes to ten. We shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?

Our Circulation.

With a very little election in the county, we find that our circulation is greater than we expected. The number of scribes is much greater than we expected. We print in the papers we have can be much greater than we expected. Every morning paper will be printed, and the papers will be printed in all the towns. We have a large number of scribes, and will print in all the towns. And we shall have a larger number of scribes, and shall double the number of their compensation. Will they see it?