The Lady and the Demon. Response.

The lady went to her bed that night, but could not sleep. She imagined that she heard a voice whispering in her ear. "Are you awake? Are you awake?" She answered, "Yes, I am awake." Then the voice said, "Come to me, come to me." She thought it was coming from the window. She got up and went to the window, but saw nothing. She then went to the door, but saw no one. She thought it was coming from her heart. She thought, "What should I do? Should I go to the church? Should I go to the doctor? Should I pray?" She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not.

The demonstration ended, and the lady went home. She thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not.

The demonstration ended, and the lady went home. She thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not. She then thought, "I will go to the church." She went to the church, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will pray." She prayed, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will go to the doctor." She went to the doctor, but saw no one. She then thought, "I will try to sleep." She tried to sleep, but could not.