The Adams Sentinel.

A Family Journal--Devoted to Foreign and Domestic News, Politics, Literature, Agriculture, Education, Moral, Science and Art, Amusement, Advertising, etc., etc.

ROBERT C. HARMER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

VOL. LXV.

GETTYSBURG, PA., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1865.

NO. 4.

The Condition of the South.

This week the Sentinel will introduce a new feature, a weekly column devoted to the condition of the South. We will endeavor to give a true picture of the conditions in the Southern states, as seen by our correspondents, and to present a fair and impartial view of the situation.

The Sentinel will also continue to publish articles and editorials dealing with the political, economic, and social issues facing the country.

The Sentinel will continue to support the Union and its ideals, working towards a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

The Sentinel will continue to promote the values of freedom, justice, and equality, and will strive to uphold the principles of the Constitution.

We hope that this new column will provide our readers with valuable information and insightful commentary on the current events.

The Sentinel

End of Document.
The Adams Sentinel and General Advertiser.

The Adams Sentinel.

CITYTED, Tuesday, September 19, 1860.

STATE TERRITORY.

 Col. ROBERT J. RUSSELL, Adjutant-General.

ORDER UNDER COUNTY TSOCKET.

D. D. CALHOUN, Lieutenant-Governor.

JACOB A. RITCHIE, Lieutenant-Governor.

SUNDRA, Lieutenant-Governor.

J. H. MANSELL, Lieutenant-Governor.

R. W. PRICE, Lieutenant-Governor.

E. E. MURDAH, Lieutenant-Governor.

J. H. WITHERSPOON, Lieutenant-Governor.

WOOD.

We would like to mention a few of the most interesting events of the week at the State Capitol. The last session of the General Assembly ended on Thursday, and the people are now looking forward to the coming of the new session, which will be held on Monday. The legislature has been in session for several weeks, and much important business has been transacted. The topics of the day have been the usual ones — education, public works, and the like. The legislature has taken many steps to improve the conditions of the state. The people are looking forward to the coming of the new session with great interest, and we have every reason to believe that it will be a successful one.

The Fair at Batavia.

The Fair at Batavia was held on Tuesday. The fair was well attended, and the exhibits were of a high order. The people of Batavia are to be congratulated on the success of the fair. The fair has been held for many years, and the people are always proud of it. The fair is a great source of pleasure to the people of Batavia, and it is a great source of satisfaction to the people of the state. The fair is a great source of pleasure to the people of Batavia, and it is a great source of satisfaction to the people of the state.

The Election Returns of the Army.

The election returns of the army were made public on Thursday. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were.

The Election Returns of the House of Representatives.

The election returns of the house of representatives were made public on Thursday. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were. The returns were made public in the usual manner, and the people were told what the results were.