Andrew G. Curtin, Union Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.
Andrew G. Curtin, Union Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

In 1864, he was a fervent adherent of the Union cause, and raised a company of troops for the federal service under the title of the 8th Pennsylvania Volunteers. In 1865, he was appointed Assistant Adjutant General of the state, and served in this capacity until 1867, when he was elected Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, and served as such until 1869. In 1871, he was elected Governor of Pennsylvania, and served four terms. He was a man of strong character, and a true friend of the Union cause, and his administration was marked by ability and integrity. He died in 1892, and is remembered as one of the ablest and most popular governors of Pennsylvania.

For Judge of the Supreme Court.

DANIEL D. KEWITT,

For Sheriff,

Electoral Tuesday, October 14th.

The Copperheads in Council—The Long Hot Winter.

For long months the columns of the papers have been occupied with the discussion of the privileges of being put up as candidates for county offices. It has been said that the Constitution of the United States, and the original enactments of the Congress and the States, are not俱备 the same provisions of the Constitution. But the fact is that the Constitution of the United States, and the original enactments of the Congress and the States, are not俱备 the same provisions of the Constitution. But the fact is that the Constitution of the United States, and the original enactments of the Congress and the States, are not俱备 the same provisions of the Constitution.

We must not forget to forget that the Constitution of the United States, and the original enactments of the Congress and the States, are not俱备 the same provisions of the Constitution. But the fact is that the Constitution of the United States, and the original enactments of the Congress and the States, are not俱备 the same provisions of the Constitution.

The Great Compromise.

We have felt it to be our duty, in the name of the people of Pennsylvania, to advise the State Senate, and the representatives of Pennsylvania and Mr. Valcker in Ohio, to make the war a success, and to secure the safety of the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio. We have been careful to see that the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, to make the war a success, and to secure the safety of the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, are aware of the importance of the war. We have been careful to see that the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, to make the war a success, and to secure the safety of the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, are aware of the importance of the war. We have been careful to see that the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, to make the war a success, and to secure the safety of the people of Pennsylvania and Ohio, are aware of the importance of the war.
WE ARE DETERMINED TO KEEP OUR RIGHTS.

The people of the United States are determined to keep their rights. We have fought and we will continue to fight until our rights are secured. We will not be daunted by the efforts of our enemies to prevent us from exercising our constitutional rights. We will not be intimidated by the threats of those who seek to undermine our freedom. We will stand firm and we will prevail.

The Battles of the Civil War

The Civil War was a conflict fought between the northern and southern states of the United States, which lasted from 1861 to 1865. It was fought to determine the future of slavery and the nature of the Union itself. The war resulted in the abolition of slavery and the reunification of the United States.

The Battle of Gettysburg

The Battle of Gettysburg was one of the most significant battles of the Civil War, fought from July 1 to 3, 1863. It was a turning point in the war, with the Union forces under General George Meade defeating the Confederate forces under General Robert E. Lee. The battle resulted in the end of the Confederacy and the eventual Union victory.

The Battle of Antietam

The Battle of Antietam, fought on September 17, 1862, was the bloodiest one-day battle of the Civil War, with over 4,600 Union and Confederate soldiers killed. The battle resulted in a strategic advantage for the Union, but it also prevented a Confederate invasion of the North.

The Battle of Fredericksburg

The Battle of Fredericksburg, fought on December 13, 1862, was a Confederate victory, with the Union forces under General Ambrose Burnside suffering heavy losses. The battle resulted in the end of Burnside's career as a military leader.
