Adventures from the Sea

By Captain J. H. Wimer

To the Editor: Mr. Wimer, the author of the article "Adventures from the Sea," has once again provided us with an entertaining account of his adventures on the high seas. In this particular installment, he shares his experiences during a particularly stormy voyage, describing how he and his crew managed to survive the treacherous waters and return safely to port.

The submission is 1 page long and includes a vivid description of the oceanic weather, the challenges faced by the crew, and the moments of hope and triumph that kept them going. Overall, it is a compelling read for anyone interested in maritime tales and adventure.

The Union County Convention

A CAPITAL TICKET.

The proceedings of the Union County Convention on Monday, were in a fair way of conclusion.

The proceedings were adjourned sine die, at 2 o'clock, P. M., with a vote of thanks to the Hon. J. C. H. McDonald, for his able and eloquent speech, in which he reviewed the history of the Convention, and the proceedings of the Union County Convention of 1863, and expressed his confidence in the Union, and his determination to support the Constitution of the United States.

The convention then passed the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the Union County Convention of 1863, is the legal and constitutional body of the county, and that it has the right to determine the course of action of the county, and to take all necessary steps to effectuate the same.

2. Resolved, That the Union County Convention of 1863, is the representative body of the county, and that it has the right to call a convention of the people of the county, to organize a government for the same.
